

Saatchi & Saatchi

Torrance, CA

“Home at work” was the concept for the renovation of Saatchi & Saatchi’s Los Angeles office, intended to boost creative collaboration among the more than 500 employees.

ShubinDonaldson

ShubinDonaldson incorporated elements of a home into the design through large gestures, such as a grand staircase/meeting space, living and dining areas, and a “backyard” for casual gathering. Focusing great attention on the main floor — centrally located on the third level — ShubinDonaldson designed a communal hub to bring staff together in a variety of configurations. The advertising agency’s branded orange color was used throughout in furnishings and materials.
